Hi, Eve!

Oh, you have no idea how much that visit uplifted me. That review is no surprise to me given how hard you all are killing it. Your direction is on point. Those kids are aces, every one. Such great energy and so much heart. I hope that should they decide to pursue acting in their what are sure to be bright futures, that they come audition for me some time. Seriously.

Thank you again so much. And more soon, please!

Warmth,

Chisa

Dear Chisa --

Thank you so much for joining us last Saturday. The students are positively over-the-moon about meeting you -- I'm not sure I will be able to get bring them back down to earth before our second weekend.

I am so honored to have worked on your play. I think you can see how closely our students relate to the characters, the story, the joy and the drama of it all. They are extremely proud to share Kia's story with the audience, and their faculty and I are very proud of how much they've grown artistically and personally as a result of this process.

We got this embarrassingly glowing review in DC Metro Arts -- I didn't even know they were coming (no one ever reviews college shows -- but they should!) <https://dcmetrotheaterarts.com/2018/10/20/review-she-like-girls-at-university-of-maryland-baltimore-county/>

Again, thank you for your generosity and kindness.

I can't wait for more Chisa Hutchinson plays!

Yours sincerely,
Eve
